Our aim

To support schools towards effective inclusion of pupils with Special Educational Needs

Who are we?

We have a dedicated team of Inclusion Specialist Teachers and an Inclusion Support Assistant, all with a wealth of experience of working with pupils with special educational needs and of supporting both pupils and colleagues in the mainstream setting.

SISS provides comprehensive support to mainstream primary and secondary schools on all aspects of inclusion.

Who can we help?

We can help pupils with general learning difficulties who may also have:

- Autism
- ADHD
- Downs Syndrome
- Visual Impairment
- Hearing Impairment
- Physical Impairments
- Dyspraxia
- Cerebral Palsy
- Genetic Conditions
- Communication Disorders
- Behaviour Difficulties

What can we provide?

- Teaching activities and resources
- Advice and training
- Advice on Individual Education Programmes (IEPs) and their management
- Support in production of IEPs using S.M.A.R.T targets
- Subject specific support and advice
- Modelling of techniques and hands on demonstrations
- Appropriate schemes of work
- Assessment of P and National Curriculum levels
- Comprehensive training on all areas of special needs

What schools have said...

"I value our link with Brookfields very highly. Thank you."

Bradfield C of E Primary

"A valuable and essential service. Thank you."

Basildon C of E Primary

"I have found the level of support to be perfect. I was given enough help initially to work independently but it has been reassuring to know support is there if we need it."

Cold Ash St Marks C of E Primary

"Excellent resources and suggestions have been given."

Denefield School

"Have had some fantastic advice from every member of staff who has worked with us. Your support, expertise and advice is second to none."

Downsway Primary

"The links that we have with SISS are invaluable. Advice given is always prompt, realistic and varied ranging from emails, visits, resources, telephone calls and our staff visiting Brookfields."
